The Ascension of the Lord

May 17, 2026

Jesus, having completed the work of his Father, speaks of returning to him and of being glorified. As we share in his glory, so too do we share in Christ's suffering. We have nothing to fear, however, since the Lord is our refuge. In his name do we gather, attentive to the Spirit.

Pastor's Corner

LIVING EASTER JOY

Beloved Parishioners,

In this week Pastor's Corner, my reflection is focused on Eastertide. What we easily forget is that the Church designed the liturgical calendar to do one major thing, namely, to make Christians live the life of Christ through time. The liturgical year is theologically and spiritually structured to help the Church remember, celebrate, relive, and interiorize the mysteries of salvation. This is why the fathers of the Second Vatican Council, through the document Sacrosanctum Concilium, insist that we celebrate the liturgy of the Church in a manner that is not only befitting but also actively participatory.

One important part of the liturgical calendar to which most of us do not pay enough attention is Eastertide. Many Catholics take Lent seriously because it is visibly demanding: fasting, ashes, Stations of the Cross, and penance. But Eastertide often gets neglected because joy is harder to sustain than sorrow. Yet, in the mind of the Church, Easter is the center of the entire Christian year. As Saint Paul boldly declares, "If Christ has not been raised, then our preaching is in vain and your faith is in vain" (1 Cor. 15:14). While many of us celebrate Easter Sunday with great enthusiasm, the deeper significance of Eastertide is often neglected. For many, Easter ends with the passing of Easter Sunday. The Church, however, in her wisdom, extends the celebration for fifty days leading to Pentecost because the mystery of the Resurrection is too profound to be exhausted in a single day.

This has great implications for our Christian living. Resurrection must produce a visible change in our lives. A Christian who lives Lent intensely but ignores Eastertide is spiritually unbalanced—almost like remaining at the Cross without entering the Resurrection. However, there are some concrete ways we Catholics can recover the significance of Eastertide. First, we ought to stop treating Easter as one day. The Church celebrates Easter for fifty days, not merely on Easter Sunday. During these fifty days, we should consciously ask ourselves: "How am I living as a Resurrection people during these weeks?"

During Eastertide, we can take time to read the Resurrection narratives slowly and meditatively. We should consciously spend time with John 20–21, Luke 24, and the Acts of the Apostles. Notice how the disciples move from fear to courage, from confusion to mission, and from hiding to witness. This practically teaches us that Eastertide is about transformation.

Third, we must recover joy as a spiritual discipline. Some Christians are very accustomed to guilt, fear, and spiritual heaviness, but unfamiliar with redeemed joy. Yet Resurrection faith should produce hope, confidence, and interior freedom. As Nehemiah proclaimed, "The joy of the Lord is your strength" (Neh. 8:10).

Fourth, we should use Eastertide to prepare intentionally for Pentecost. Most Catholics prepare seriously for Christmas and Lent, but only a few prepare for Pentecost. Yet the disciples spent days praying and waiting for the Holy Spirit. We Catholics should pray for renewal, invoke the Holy Spirit daily, make a Pentecost novena, and ask for spiritual gifts and boldness. Pentecost should not arrive unnoticed.

Fifth, we must allow Easter to transform our daily living. If Christ is risen, then despair is not ultimate, sin is not unconquerable, suffering is not meaningless, and death is not final. Eastertide should affect how we speak, forgive, hope, worship, and serve; otherwise, it remains only liturgical symbolism.

Another important point is that we must pay closer attention to the liturgy. The Church is already teaching Eastertide powerfully through white vestments, the Paschal candle, the repeated "Alleluia," the Resurrection readings, the Acts of the Apostles, and the Eucharistic prayers. Many Catholics miss the impact of the season simply because they do not consciously enter into the liturgy.

Finally, we must understand that Easter leads us to mission. The risen Christ never leaves the disciples passive. Every Resurrection appearance eventually ends with: "Go," "Feed my sheep," "Make disciples," and "Receive the Holy Spirit." The true sign that someone understands Easter is not excitement alone but transformed witness.

Fr. Tony Okolo C.S.Sp., V.F.

Theme: Behold I Will be With You till the End of the Age

The Ascension of the Lord Year A, May 17, 2026

First Reading Acts 1:1-11, Second Ephesians 1:17-23, Matthew 28:16-20

The Son returns to the father after he has accomplished his mission on earth; the mission of reconciling humanity to God which came at a great cost. According to Cardinal Bo “We walked through his way of the Cross on Good Friday, waited with hope on the Holy Saturday and rejoiced when he won over death and decay and triumphantly rose again on the third day on Easter Sunday”. After staying with the disciples for forty days, with his mission accomplished he returns with a great sense of fulfilment to the father. That is what celebrates today, the Ascension.

Ascension is not space travel or an escape from this world but as Bishop Barron would say, “a transliteration of the earthly realities into human dimension. The transfiguration of this earth by heaven.” It is still the great celebration of victory over darkness, life over death, hope over despair, good over evil and God over Satan.

Towards the end of today’s Gospel Jesus commands his disciples “Go therefore and make disciples of all nation, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.” And he goes on to say to them, “and behold, I am with you always to the end of age.”

These words of Jesus are both a challenge and a promise to us in our world today. It is a challenge in the sense that Jesus calls every one of us, to become a missionary disciple of the good news of salvation. He calls us to be apostles of the Good News in places where we live and work. He wants us to share the testimony of our faith in Him, the testimony of his victory over darkness, life over death and hope over despair especially at this moment of too much anxiety over war and the high cost of living.

He equally promises of hope that he will be with us till the end of age. It is an assurance that no matter the situation we face, he would never abandon us. Even in the worst of circumstances never lose faith that God is with us. Never lose faith of the presence of God in your life.

A priest, Walter Ciszek by name, was in Russia for 23 years, five of which were spent in dreaded Lubyanka prison in Moscow and ten of which were spent in the harsh Siberian slave labor camp. He was finally released from Russia in 1963, in exchange for two Soviet spies held in the USA. He died in 1984 at the age of 84. After his release he wrote a book HE LEADETH ME. In this book he tries to answer the question: “How did you manage to survive in Russia? He says, “I was able to endure the inhuman conditions in which I found myself because I experienced somehow the presence of God. I never lost my faith that God was with me, even in the worst of circumstances.” What was true of Fr. Walter Ciszek is true of each of us. Jesus is with us; God is with us in the power of the Holy Spirit.

Fr. Tony Okolo C.S.Sp., V.F.
